

Ivar Anni-Padda, the eldest of an ancient clan of legendary adventurers, has spent his life tracking time arcs – portals that allow him to travel to different periods in Earth's history with the help of his Tachyon Compass. He is brilliant, cunning, charming, and more than a little devious. He is...

Ivar Timewalker

The story so far..

Ivar came crashing into the life of scientist Neela Sethi seconds before she discovered time travel, taking her on a chase through time!

He sought to prevent her from trying to change history to save her father's life, an action with dire repercussions for space-time. Neela deserted Ivar, joining his enemies, the Prometheans, and their leader - Neela from a distant future now known simply as the Mistress - to change history forever!

It turned out the Mistress had really kidnapped Neela to trick her into destroying history altogether. Ivar led a daring rescue mission and saved Neela from her clutches - only to seemingly die alongside the Mistress as her fortress, Oblivi-1, was erased from existence. Time may not be safe, and Neela may have lost Ivar forever.
