

Ivar Anni-Padda, the eldest of an ancient clan of legendary adventurers, has spent his life tracking time arcs – portals that allow him to travel to different periods in Earth's history with the help of his Tachyon Compass. He is brilliant, cunning, charming, and more than a little devious. He is...

Ivar, Timewalker

The story so far...

Ivar came crashing into the life of scientist Neela Sethi seconds before she discovered time travel, taking her on a chase through time!

He sought to prevent her from trying to change history to save her father's life, an action with dire repercussions for space-time. Neela deserted Ivar, joining his enemies, the Prometheans, and their leader - Neela from a distant future - to change history forever!

Aware that Neela's plans could destroy the very fabric of time, and with it, the entire universe, Ivar traveled time to rally his immortal brothers Gilad & Aram and daredevil pilot Amelia Earhart to lead an assault on the Prometheans' headquarters, Oblivi-1. Along the way, they were attacked by the nanite warrior Von-New-Man, but defeated him - not before Ivar stole a few of his nanites. They'll need all the help they can get as Neela Sethi has discovered her future self has gone mad and seeks to fulfill a diabolical plan....
