LOCKJAW

LOCKJAW is a giant teleporting bulldog born of Inhuman experiments on canines. His powers allow him to travel and carry others thousands of miles and even across dimensions. He is a loyal companion of the Inhuman Royal Family.

A mysterious signal sent by a faraway ally has Lockjaw adventuring through dimensions to find the source! With the help of a powerless former super hero named Dennis Dunphy, a.k.a D-Man, he saved a bulldog named Bixby from a horde of intelligent interdimensional hamsters before the signal led to the Savage Land, where yet another bulldog has taken command of a fierce wolf tribe. Who knows where the signal will take them next? And what's the connection between all these dogs? As Dennis's life of eating junk food and reminiscing about the halcyon days of his past is completely disrupted, he must remember how to once again act like a hero in what may be his strangest team-up yet!
