Westchester.

It's supposed to be deserted,
right?

I mean,
that's the point.

So why all the attempted breaches of the gateway here?

Well, that's not really the problem, 'Yana.

Krakoa has hundreds of access failures every day--humans who try to walk through an active gate and then aren't able to. It's how they work. It's how they're grown.

But we're here because Krakoa smelled "mutant" in this gate's vicinity during each failure. Which begs the question...what in the world is going on at the abandoned X-Mansion?

Only one way to find out.

Trevor?
