AVENGERS · DEFENDERS

TAROT

The Defenders recently took down a sorcerer who had been using demon ichor to control people. When Doctor Strange traced the presence of more ichor to Avengers Mansion, the Defenders traveled there--only to find Diablo wielding the dark power of demon ichor to control the Avengers!

The heroes were able to break the demonic hold, forcing Diablo, who still held the tarot cards that could control them, to retreat through a portal. Dr. Strange pursued Diablo, sealing the portal behind them. The two teams used technology to reopen the dimensional barrier and faced off against the Unbelievables, a group of cartoon-like heroes they found on the other side.

After the battle, they finally found Diablo, but Valkyrie's attempt to destroy his cards resulted in the fusion of mismatched half cards. This created a new reality of hybrid heroes made up of the combined Avengers and Defenders, who have no memory of their true nature. But as they attempted to uncover the truth, they were attacked once more by the Unbelievables...
