WHAT IF...

...one of Europe's most sought-after TV and animation writers...
...one of Italian Comics' youngest and most brilliant artists...
...and one of the most celebrated Italian colorists...
...came together to create GG Studio's biggest event yet?

That time is now.

Countdown to extinction has begun.
The doomsday clock is ticking.

The Sensational Sixties:

The Beatles' invasion unites the world while invasions in Southeast Asia divide it. A very clever thief steals an ancient Akkadian cylinder concealing a dreaded secret. A sheltered, brilliant student awakens in chains over an ancient sacrificial altar. A White House operative's assistant is witness to the prototype test of an officially nonexistent technology.

New York, 2010:

A reporter starts connecting dots and comes to the terrifying conclusion that something weird is happening out there — and it may be too late to stop it coming here.

Daive Aicardi (writer), Livia Pastore (pencils) & Alessia Nocera (colors) have arrived to tell the world its darkest hour is at hand.

An experimental military mission.

All of them covet a high-tech artifact with boundless potential. And all of this will inexorably trigger an unstoppable domino-effect to disaster. But someone's going to stop it. Maybe.

And three unsuspecting young women's lives are going to change forever.

Cynthia Morrigan: A breathtaking beauty and London-based photographer by day, master thief by night. With her unique abilities, she will go after the artifacts needed to prevent the Destruction Dominos' last piece from falling!

Cathryn Murphy: While the rest of the world is looking for "the" object, by sheer chance she discovers its dreadful secret. A power-suit she stole from a black-ops base keeps her alive, heightening her psychic and extrasensory abilities.

Caroline Moss: A student in Albuquerque, she hides a secret even she is unaware of. She finds herself captive inside a Mayan temple and can't be sure she'll escape... but an all-powerful and age-old Sumerian goddess will be there to help her!

They do not know.
They did not care.
They can not accept it.

But they are humankind's last hope.

We are proud to announce the crossover event spanning the new GG STUDIO universe which is going to feature three ongoing series:

MIST - EDGE - ARISE
