

Okay... I know what you're about to say...

Isn't this where we came in?

With me shooting up a building full of bad guys.

WHO THE FU--

So, what the hell are we doing back here... Right?

Isn't that what you're thinking?

Or maybe you're just realizing this entire story has been the longest flashback in history.

Actually, I'm sure at least a few of you have been thinking about that the whole time...

Wondering when we're going to get to this part of the story.

When am I going to go from being a bumbling idiot who just happens to get lucky a lot...

PINGG

...To this guy?

The cold and methodical killer.

Also, didn't it seem like where we left things last time...

With me finding out I was off my meds...

And seeing the demon in one of my dad's old illustrations...

Didn't that seem like maybe we weren't heading for this scene anymore?
