DELTA 13

A crew of workers is on a mission to catalogue asteroids out in the belt. Their findings have been nil until a giant asteroid appears in front of them. Flying into it, they find a humanoid woman plugged into a mysterious machine and take her back to their ship for medical treatment. Meanwhile, an unidentified life form reading has attached itself to the back of the ship. When the woman disappears from the medbay, the hunt is on, but is the crew hunting her-or is she hunting them?
