ROYAL WE

Mutants around the world are flocking to the island-nation of Krakoa for safety, security and to be part of the first mutant society.

The Hellfire Trading Company is responsible for distributing Krakoa's pharmaceuticals to friendly nations and smuggling mutants out of unfriendly ones. Currently run by two leaders, Sebastian Shaw and Emma Frost, a third governing chair remains open...

Our answer is no, Emma.

I'm disappointed but not surprised. I have another candidate.

Until I can sort out my...issues with the current board of the Hellfire Trading Company, there will be no Lord Imperial.

And for the future, keep in mind it's more important than ever for us to have strong alliances.

Mutants are perfectly aligned, Emma.

Sweet Mindee...

...I meant us women. I need to go. The Black King is here.

Good luck, Mum. This is going to be a #@##%show.

Aren't they all? For now, there must be peace between white and...

"--like your pending insurance claim."

Careful, Lockheed!

Don't feed Pyro too much!

Batroc, don't you dare--oof!

It's over, guys! Surrender!

No! Don't let them aboard, men!
